

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 11, 1856.

The Bark Manchester, Captain Porter, 15 days from Tampa Bay, arrived here early yesterday morning. She brings over three hundred passengers, among them Gen. Manigault, ex-President of New Granada. The Empire City brings down from Kingston, Jamaica, to Dec. 1st. The cholera is making the most fearful ravages throughout the West Indies. It has been very fatal at Kingston, but is now more severe in other parts of the island. Kingston is reported to have lost 5000 by that disease, and a proportionate number at Port Royal.

The quiet surcease of the following communication is admirable; we commend it to the serious consideration of the "fatherly."

To the Editor of the Daily News:

Dear Sir,

I am rejoiced to find that while publishing the new laws against "children's amusements," you have not omitted to make a complimentary comment on both them and their makers; surely they deserve it.

Good laws have been made; we shall now, perhaps, hear no more of such outrages as were committed, last winter, in open daylight, in the very midst of our otherwise peaceful community, and which endangered not only the limbs, but the lives of our citizens, &c. &c. I remember perfectly well, that I, for one, came very near falling a victim to the machinations of a depraved young man, who, having filled his little apron with spool-balls, was going to attack me in the rear, as I was trudging quietly along the street. By great good luck, I turned and caught him in the very act of throwing one of his "missiles," which happily, fell short of me.

Now, sir, what was I to do? As there was no law against such practices, I could do nothing but walk on, being still pursued by my little enemy who, laughing and hurrahing—mark the depravity of that child—continued to throw his "missiles" at me, with varied success, until his supply was exhausted. I am not a model of patience—I am not another Job—but even if I were, you can imagine that I, who have suffered to the utmost extent, most rejoice at the sight of those goings which, as you remarked, have been lately "batted" by our little things! I fear that, after all the trouble which the old birds have had with them, they will not survive the first snow-storm.

I do not quite understand the Secret, which says "That no person shall slide on any sled or other machine, or in any vehicle whatever, for amusement, or for any other purpose." What does machine mean, here? Are boats, sleds, or the seats of pantaloons, machines? If so, we will be fined for our misbehavior, evidently. For, suppose that the boy, not having the fear of the law before his eyes, should have succeeded in making a slide on the pavement, notwithstanding the vigilance of the policeman who cannot, of course, be every where at the same time. Next, suppose that some "corrupt" old gentleman, "one of the fathers," for instance, respecting of slides, and trusting in the laws, comes along; if he, taking a slide, whether for amusement or not, happens to tumble, the policeman, if he is near, is bound to take him up; and, moreover, he must be fined "not less than one dollar, nor more than five dollars," unless he can prove that he was sliding for amusement, which is impossible.

I would say more, but as it is, I am obliged to apologize for the length of the letter, pleading for my excuse, the interest which I take in what may be called the war between those in their first childhood and those in their second. I remain, your obedient servant,

G. S.

We copy the following complimentary Card from a late number of the Charleston Courier; it refers to Captain Peter Turner, U. S. N., of this town:

A CARD.—The crew of the late Schooner Albatross, the medium of conveying to Capt. Peter Turner, Commander of said vessel, their thanks for his very kind and gentlemanly treatment to them while on board his vessel; and in thus separating from a friend whom they cherished and respected, and they tender to him their best wishes for his future welfare and happiness, and hope that a kind Providence may always extend to him prosperous and favorable gales in his journey through life. The many pleasant hours spent on board will often recall to mind the friendly and worthy commander.

BY THE EMPIRE CITY.

2,000,000 DOLLARS IN GOLD.

New York, Dec. 9.

The Empire City arrived yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, with over two millions of gold on freight and in hands of passengers. She brings over three hundred passengers, among them Gen. Manigault, ex-President of New Granada.

The Empire City brings down from Kingston, Jamaica, to Dec. 1st. The cholera is making the most fearful ravages throughout the West Indies. It has been very fatal at Kingston, but is now more severe in other parts of the island. Kingston is reported to have lost 5000 by that disease, and a proportionate number at Port Royal.

It had entirely disappeared from the latter place. The most melancholy accounts are received from the interior and agricultural districts. The Journal says that in the Plain Garden river district, one thousand persons have been swept away by the fell destroyer.

From St. David, frightful accounts have been received. The whole police force, corporals, &c., had been carried away chiefly for want of sustenance. Real estate had greatly depreciated.

The Empire City Dec. 31, S. P. M. exchanged signals with steamer Cherokee, hence 5th. Lat 31, Lon 78, spoke King Man of Portland for Matanzas.

Steamer Atlantic sailed yesterday morning.

TO JENNY LIND.—HUBBARD:

Park Benjamin has graciously lent our "Vanguard" for the pleasure of giving him an evening at Tripler Hall. It is one of the rarest things yet elicited from our native poets by the surprising chance of the noble Sweden.

I heard you sing, oh Northern bird,
The South's earliest strain,
And lo! the music of the Northland
Pulsed in my brain.

I thought till the rapturous scene
To wild amazement grew,
Wondering if nightingales indeed
Could sing as sweet as you.

But when you sang your native song
I heard the gushing rills,
And felt the breezy winds that blow
Among your Swedish hills.

I saw you more in Tripler Hall,
But high among the rocks,
And saw the hardiness as they cry,
Responsive to their doaks.

And "hush! hush!" to my ear
By distance made more sweet,
Came a sweet back-sound, the voice
Were gurgling at my feet.

And so I said, a happy land
The land of Sweden must be,
When every gale that wafts her chords
Is full of melody.

Your singing ceased, oh Northern bird!
Yet still the harmonies roll
When floating round the frescoed forms
That breathe of Tripler Hall.

Methodist, how wonder grows to hear
Italian strains of art!
But Nature's simple music speaks
A language to the heart!

We are glad to hear that the Point people are roused up for the protection of the old Liberty Tree; they say that it shall not be injured. Since this is their determination, we pity the ones who may attempt to cut it down, for they would not be lightly dealt with.

Messrs. Strong and Beatty, of this town, both of the ship Audley Clarke's company, reached home yesterday morning, from California, each bringing, we learn, several thousand dollars in gold, being the result of their labors in that country.

We notice the death, the last of October, at San Francisco, by cholera, of a Mr. George Brown, of Rhode Island.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.

SENATE.—The chair presented the annual report of the commissioners of the pension and land offices, which were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Butler gave notice that he would introduce a bill to pay South Carolina all the monies advanced by her to the General Government during the Florida war.

Mr. Benton introduced a bill in favor of paying the state of Missouri certain monies expended by her in internal improvements.

Several petitions were presented, of no general interest.

The bill for distributing the decisions of the Supreme Court among states and territories, was then taken up, and after being debated was laid upon the table.

HOTEL.—The House met at 12 o'clock. Prayer by the chaplain.

The Speaker announced the standing committees, which are not materially changed from those of the last session.

H. A. Ballard, of Louisiana, elected in the place of Mr. Conrad, after being sworn, took his seat.

The House then went into committee of the whole upon the State of the Union. Several parts of the President's message were referred to the appropriate committees.

Mr. Giddings, of Ohio, delivered himself of a speech in opposition to the fugitive slave bill. The arguments used by him were those already known to the public.

SOUTH CAROLINA LEGISLATURE.—The several resolutions upon the subject of federal relations were under discussion in the House of Representatives on the 3d and 4th inst.

On the 3d Mr. Middleton advocated the policy of refusing to elect a U. S. Senator, in place of Mr. Calhoun. He maintained that the State Legislature could, whenever they deemed it expedient, bring the general government to a stand, by refusing to constitute the electoral body, or determining not to elect or appoint presidential electors.

Mr. Keitt addressed the House on the 3d, and concluded his remarks on the 4th. He advocated separate statehood. What the South wanted is the formation of a Southern confederacy. The only feasible means of effecting this is by a secession by the states individually. Should South Carolina secede, it would bring around her every true friend of the South.

When he had concluded, a debate sprung up on the propriety of limiting the time for making speeches—pending which the whole subject was postponed to the next day.

A bill was introduced, and received its first reading, to increase the penalty for circulating papers calculated to disturb the peace and security of the state. It provides that persons guilty of the offence designated shall be deemed guilty of a high misdemeanor and receive thirty-nine lashes, pay a fine not exceeding $1000, and be imprisoned not exceeding five years.

LETTER FROM MRS. JUNCTION.—The following letter, which we take from the Baptist Chronicle, shows the frame of her spirit under her sore bereavement:

MATHEW, Aug. 21, 1856.

My dear Mr. Peck—I am sure that you will acquit me of disrespectful neglect, if, in the midst of my sickness and crushing sorrow, I do not write you as I otherwise might. "Stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted," my only refuge is the cross of Christ, and I have at present no hope, no feeling, no thought for anything else. It is right to mourn, though not to morn, and while I say, "It is the Lord, let him do what seemeth to him good," my heart must needs be aching with its heavy anguish. And yet my sorrow is all selfish, for I can, and do rejoice, when I think of his having won his crown at last—entered into his rest—a co-heir with Christ in glory; where "the Lamb that is in the midst of the throne shall feed him, and shall lead him unto living fountains of pure waters, and God shall wipe away all tears from his eyes."

I beg an interest in your prayers, that God may direct my future course, leading me through the dark shadows that have settled on my pathway, to a manner that will best conduce to his own glory, and the good of those among whom he may see fit to place me. With best wishes for your peace and prosperity, believe me, my dear Mr. Peck,

THE CHURCH IN PROVIDENCE.

NOV. THE OLDEST OF THE BAPTISTS IN AMERICA.

ATTEMPTED to be shown by the Rev. S. A. Linn, Pastor of the first Baptist Church in Newport, R. I. Such is the title of a pamphlet, which is now in press and will be published in a few days; this most conclusively proves that the Church in Providence is not the oldest Baptist Church, but that the oldest is in Newport.

The Charleston Mercury, speaking of President Fillmore's message, says: "It is the earnest of respectfully playful and constitutional ding-dong. The only portion of it that seems, at all to him, and to catch a genial glow from it, is the portion of the writer, in the paragraph on the Gario trade. The President appears to be at home on that subject."

The above is a specimen of South Carolina decency.

UNION, Dec. 9th.—A. M.

Thos. Mitchell, post master at West Fowler, S. C., was brought to this city last evening in custody of a special agent of the Department, under arrest for robbing the U. S. mail. He was taken before Commissioner M. A. Boyce this morning. It appears that for several months packages passing over the route between Watertown and Canada, directed to New York, Philadelphia, &c., have been abstracted, and upon inquiry it was clearly ascertained that Mr. Mitchell was the guilty person; therefore the commissioner, after a brief hearing, required the prisoner to give bail in the amount of $3,000. Much credit is due to Mr. Mitchell, the special agent of the Department, for the sagacity of the plan for detection and the ability with which it was carried out.

Detroit, Monday, Dec. 9.

The Hamilton woolen mills, situated at Southbridge, Mass., were destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The loss is about $270,000, of which $150,000 is covered by insurance.

Over 700 persons have been thrown out of work by the destruction of the Hamilton mills. The cause of the fire is at present unknown.

Lowell, Monday evening, (Courier office).—Our municipal election has terminated in a complete Whig triumph, against the Confusion of Democrats, Free Soilers, and Sizzlers. James H. B. Ayer has a majority of over six hundred, over all others. Eight Whig Aldermen and twenty-two out of twenty-four Whig Council men, are elected.

It is said that Ole Bull will revisit the United States, after having made a tour through Finland, Russia and the great cities of Asia.

Captain James McGuire, who died in Alexandria, D. C., on Saturday last, left his property, valued at $20,000, to be divided equally between the Methodist Protestant and Methodist Episcopal Churches, and the Corporation of Alexandria, the annual interest to be appropriated for the benefit of the Poor.

The New Orleans Delta publishes a statement founded on official data, which shows that there are in Cuba veteran regiments of Spanish troops, forming an aggregate of more than 19,000 men.
